Description

A lamp (nightlight), the so-called "lady" model, in the typical Art Deco style.This statuette lamp of a young girl with a captivating air rests on an octagonal base. The figure depicts a young girl in a dreamy pose, her head tilted back. One arm is raised, her hand on her shoulder, while the other, placed behind her back, holds a bouquet of flowers.The brown patina of the base and body contrasts with the brightly colored glass paste skirt (with a frosted texture) that serves as both the lampshade and the central element of the piece. The skirt is rounded and decorated with vertical blue stripes and red polka dots on a bright yellow background.Very distinctly Art Deco in style, it is engraved "Brevette" on the base. There is some wear to the patina on the bust. A rare and highly decorative piece.
