Description

An Antique Ring adorned with a cabochon in natural green jadeite (not tinted) partly translucent, on a white gold mount with rhinestones imitating brilliants, the jade of Chinese or Burmese origin, the European mount from the 1920s / 1930s. The use of small shimmering surfaces (rhinestones) here gives the illusion of brilliance and points to a date of manufacture, for the frame, around the 1920s or 1930s. The jadeite cabochon, partly translucent and of a green tint very strong apple, was chosen for its high quality and it is particularly well highlighted by this art deco frame.
