Early 19th Century Mahogany Folding Table

3 000 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Description

A varnished mahogany "fold-away" table, dating from the very beginning of the 19th century. Half of the tabletop folds down over the other half, forming a large console table 160 cm wide by 80 cm deep, easily stored against a wall. When fully extended, the tabletop transforms into a round dining table, 160 cm in diameter. This table retains its original sliding mechanism, allowing for expansion with several extension leaves (not included). Table height: 72 cm. Console tabletop height: 74 cm.
