Description

Porcelain of Tournai, Plate polychrome copy China. The basin of this polychrome plate, octagonal in shape, is decorated with a carmine fiil, and hosts a Chinese garden dotted with blooming flowers, rocks, a coffee table and two garden stools, in the midst of which two geese are eating. The wing is decorated with a large garland of foliage of leaves and flowers. According to EJ Soil de Moriamé and L. Delplace de Formanoir, and given its exceptional shape, this plate should be a copy of a porcelain from China in the mid-18th century for reassortment.
