Description

A pair of large, krater-shaped Capodimonte porcelain vases, dating to the second half of the 19th century. The central body features a bouquet of flowers framed by gilded garlands against a faux-marble background. The plinths at the base are decorated with river landscapes, complete with architectural elements and trees. The contours, the baluster-shaped foot, and the moldings are finished with pure gold--a detail consistent with the historic "crowned N" mark found on the underside of the bases.
