Description

A set of 19th-century Louis-Philippe-style chairs, circa 1860. Magnificent!A pair of armchairs and a pair of chairs with sinuous, curved lines, richly decorated with roses (on the backrest and knee buttons, and in the center of the seat post) as well as stylized acanthus leaves and bellflowers. Fully upholstered (seats, backs, and armrests), with medallion-shaped backs, they rest on four legs: the front cabriole legs are fitted with a castor (brass clamp and horn castor), while the rear legs are turned into an S-shape. The seats are semicircular at the back, rounded on the sides, and curved at the front.Condition: Very good original condition. The upholstery is in very good condition following restoration.Provenance: Poland, 19th century, circa 1860Materials: walnut, rosewoodDimensions:2 armchairs, height
