PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Antique-cut Diamond Daisy Ring In 750 Gold

2 200 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Gold

Description

A one-of-a-kind ring born of a metamorphosis, where the story of one piece of jewelry continues in another.This ring was created by transforming an antique piece: its center, set with vintage-cut diamonds and mounted in silver, was originally a brooch. Our workshops gave it a second life by soldering it onto an antique gold wedding band, creating a ring with a deliberately timeless charm.The contrast between the two metals defines the piece's character: the gold band lends warmth, while the silver-and-gold head highlights the slightly warm sparkle of the antique-cut diamonds--these 19th-century cuts, with facets wider than modern cuts, catch the light with a softness that today's diamonds no longer replicate.Specifications:- Ring band: 750 gold- Head: silver and 750 gold- Stones: old-cut

Dealer

Pund
Antique jewelry
Mobile : 0674907457

19 ter rue Inkermann
Lille 59000

diamonds- Alteration: antique brooch converted into a ring (hand-soldered)- Period: setting from the late 19th century - band from the 20th century- Size: 68 (can be resized)- Weight: 4.42 gOur OpinionWearing this ring means wearing a piece that has already lived a life--and is now beginning a second one. Each transformation is handcrafted in our workshop: no two are alike.