Platinum Ring With Onyx And 1.7-carat Old-cut Diamonds - Art Deco Ring

4 000 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Platinum

Description

This platinum ring features an elegant, contrasting design emblematic of early 20th-century jewelry. At its center, a deep black oval onyx holds a closed-set old-cut diamond, subtly integrated into the stone, creating a delicate play of light at the heart of the piece.Surrounding the onyx, a halo of old-cut diamonds accentuates the oval shape and adds brilliance and refinement. Their soft sparkle, characteristic of old cuts, contrasts harmoniously with the depth of the onyx.The piece as a whole offers a balanced silhouette--both graphic and timeless--where each element perfectly complements the next.DetailsMaterial: PlatinumMain stone: Oval onyxCenter stone: Old-cut diamond in a closed settingBacking: Old-cut diamondsTotal diamond weight:

Dealer

Pund
Antique jewelry
Mobile : 0674907457

19 ter rue Inkermann
Lille 59000

Approximately 1.7 caratsStyle: Art DecoRing size: 55 (resizing available)Condition: Very good conditionWeight: 6.5 gramsOur OpinionA ring of great elegance, where the contrast between the deep onyx and the softness of the old-cut diamonds creates a striking and timeless aesthetic. The center diamond, set in a closed setting, adds an original and subtle touch. A piece with character, ideal for lovers of vintage jewelry with a bold style.