Description

Syrian Combination Game Table - Marquetry and InlaysA very elegant Syrian combination game table, dating from the early 19th century, richly decorated with marquetry and inlays.The tabletop features a remarkable geometric design created with small inlays of wood, mother-of-pearl, and light-colored materials, forming star-shaped motifs, lozenges, and polychrome borders characteristic of Eastern craftsmanship.This table features a combination mechanism that reveals various games and interior compartments. The game top, designed specifically for backgammon and trictrac, is lined with green velvet.The rim and legs are also adorned with meticulous marquetry, reflecting the care taken in its craftsmanship.A truly beautiful piece of Oriental furniture, both decorative and functional, of
