Cane Rod French Folk Art Head Ludicrous Headdressed With A Grape Bunch And Pullin

600 EUR

Period : 19th century
Condition : Bon état
Length :
Width :
Diameter :
Height : 78,5 cm
Depth : 7,5 cm (pommeau)

https://www.proantic.com/en/357261-cane-rod-french-folk-art-head-ludicrous-headdressed-with-a-grape-bunch-and-pulling-tongue-xix.html

Description

Cane Rod with a head of ludicrous, bearded man wearing a bunch of grapes and sticking out his tongue ... a drunk man's head. The eyes are hollow.
Nineteenth French Popular Art Work.
Carved in hard fruitwood, monoxyle.
Tip changed (not of origin).
Good condition, tiny crack of surface of the wood's work of origin (in the middle of the barrel, to see photographs), without gravity.
Beautiful patina of origin.
Dimensions: 78 cm high, knob 7.5 cm x 4 cm

Dealer

Les Couloirs du Temps - Samuel Collin
Folk Art and Popular Traditions, Regionalism, Curiosity
Tel : 06 81 53 21 70
Mobile : 06 70 45 88 65

(Courrier: Samuel Collin - Impasse des Ventes 28500 Mézières en Drouais) Stand d'Exposition aux Puces de Paris-St Ouen: Marché Jules Vallès stand 21
Saint-Ouen 93400