Description

This sumptuous Napoleon III-style mirror stands out for its carved wooden frame, richly adorned with gilded leaves in relief, and its delicate glazing beads that elegantly follow the contours of the mirror. These moldings are engraved with delicate florets, separated by beaded medallions and framed by garlands of pearls, creating a play of textures and reflections of great finesse.The upper corners of the mirror are delicately rounded.At the top, the mirror is crowned by a majestic pediment, the true centerpiece of the piece. This pediment features a carved lion's head--a symbol of strength and nobility--set against a background of stylized seashells. The entire piece is framed by finely crafted bouquets of flowers, adding a touch of romance to this theatrical composition.This mirror is a testament
