Description

Small fine earthenware planter with painted, glazed decoration circa 1880 stamped on the reverse with a stenciled "Sèvres" on a crown attributed to ceramist Félix Optat Millet (1838-1911) and to the decorator Emile Diffloth Several models with similar decorations and signatures are documented The planter presented here was likely made after Optat Millet left the Sèvres factory in 1879 to establish his own workshop, which was later run by his son Paul Milet In very good condition Questions are welcome
