Description

An elegant German painting, signed and dated 1899. This oil-on-canvas work--signed in the upper right by the painter Karl Rickelt (1857-1944)--depicts a stunning portrait of a woman, executed with remarkable painterly quality.
The young lady, shown in a three-quarter view with her gaze directed toward the left, wears a sumptuous golden-yellow evening gown, embellished with a floral decoration on the bodice. A soft fur wrap, fine jewelry, and an elaborate hairstyle reflect the elegance and taste of European high society during the Belle Époque.

Having trained at the Academy of Fine Arts in Munich under the tutelage of Ludwig von Löfftz, Rickelt was an accomplished genre painter, portraitist, and illustrator. This piece showcases his solid academic training, combined with the naturalistic sensibility characteristic of late 19th-century German painting.

A work of great charm and significant decorative impact, it is ideal for enhancing a formal drawing room, a study, or a refined contemporary interior. It comes with a 20th-century gilded wooden frame, featuring attractive ornamentation and some signs of age. The painting has undergone restoration, including relining, replacement of the stretcher, and minor touch-ups. Overall, it is in good condition.

Internal dimensions: H 119 cm, W 95 cm
