

Turquin Blue Marble Fireplace Dating From The First Empire

Description

Rare turquoise blue marble fireplace from the time of the First Empire, the top of its console jambs are adorned with lion heads finely carved in white marble underlined by a molding of the same material. The quality of the turquin blue marble used is remarkable. A slab of foyère can be proposed to you, as well as a narrowed brass fireplace to measure. The dimension to the body is 157.6 cm. The dimensions of his hearth are 85 cm high and 130 cm wide.

5 800 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Marble

Length : 164 cm

Width :

Diameter :

Height : 101 cm

Depth : 35 cm

<https://www.proantic.com/en/375262-turquin-blue-marble-fireplace-dating-from-the-first-empire.html>

Dealer

Claude Augustin

authentic old features

Tel : 04 78 47 39 48

104, Route nationale 6

Les Cheres 69380