Description

A superb triptych mirror in bronze, remarkable for its refined decoration and elegant composition. The three mirrors, mounted on hinges, are framed by finely chiseled mounts with a continuous vegetal frieze, emphasizing the delicacy of this object. When folded, the mirror reveals a wooden panel painted with a bouquet of flowers, executed in a soft palette, adding a luminous, painterly touch to the piece. The whole rests on a bronze base featuring stylized chimeras with dynamic, sculptural lines, lending the mirror a singular and almost mythological presence. These feet swivel for space-saving storage. A carrying handle crowns the piece and recalls the nomadic nature of this precious object, once intended to be moved as needed. A rare and refined piece, where the poetry of the decoration
