Description

Small marine pyrogen bronze 19th century 1st Empire This small bronze representing a moss, measures 11.5 cm in height and has an original patina. The work is in a good state of preservation, with no accidents to report. This careful model is an authentic testimony to 19th-century maritime sculptural art.The uniform worn suggests a provenance from the French navies of the Napoleonic era, probably from a crew of the military navy, with distinctive features specific to this period. The dark patina testifies to the natural aging of the bronze.Anchor on terrace, barrel reserve for matches.Provenance: French Navy, 19th century, after the figure's distinctive uniform.
