PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Sultane

1 500 EUR

Signature : Jacob Petit

Period : 19th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Porcelain

Height : 38 cm

Description

Porcelain "Sultane "illeuse by Jacob Petit - XIXe centuryRare porcelain "Sultane" nightlight from the XIXe century, Jacob Petit "Porcelaine de Paris"This elegant piece, in very fine overall condition, consists of two interlocking elements forming an ensemble that is both utilitarian and decorative. It is distinguished by the quality of its glaze, its superb brilliance and the richness of its polychromy, characteristic of Jacob Petit's productions.The so-called "sultana" model, inspired by the orientalism in vogue in the XIXe century, perfectly illustrates the taste for exoticism and refined forms. The nightlights diffused a soft light.Jacob Petit, developed an original and daring production from its Fontainebleau factory. Long considered exuberant, today his creations are particularly

Dealer

Antiquités Dubouchage

Generalist

Tel : 0614100067

Mobile : 0612094302

1 rue Rancher

Nice 06000

sought-after for their inventiveness, quality of execution and rich decoration. Jacob Petit was born in Paris.Born in Paris in 1796, Jacob Petit - whose real name was Jacob Mardochée - first trained as a painter in the studio of Antoine-Jean Gros. Attracted early on to the decorative arts, he undertook numerous trips to Europe, notably Italy, Switzerland, Germany and England, where he perfected his technique and soaked up a variety of influences.