Description

This charming floral still life depicts a sumptuous bouquet in a classical vase, set on a dark base. The work is in the tradition of the great Dutch and Flemish masters. The composition is built around a focal point of light-colored flowers, including white and pink roses and a two-tone tulip, which stand out against the dark, shadowy background. This contrast lends the work a particular depth and an intimate, timeless atmosphere.The painting is in good condition and the paint shows a fine crackle, which contributes to its authentic character. The work is framed in an imposing gilded frame adorned with rich rocaille motifs at the corners and center, which reinforce the classical look of the whole.Condition: the painting is in good condition. The frame shows damage to the upper
