Landscape Study With Ruins By A Pond By Salvator Rosa (naples, 1615 - Rome, 1673)

3 200 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Très bon état

Length : 13,2

Width : 7,8

Description

Landscape Study with Ruins by a Pond by Salvator Rosa (Naples, 1615 - Rome, 1673).o Artist. Salvator Rosa, a renowned Italian painter, engraver, and poet of the Baroque period, best known for his wild and picturesque landscapes. The work bears the inscription "S. Rosa" in the lower right corner of the support.o Title. Landscape Study with Ruins Near a Pond, datable to around the mid-17th century (ca. 1650).o Technique and dimensions. Pen and brown ink on laid paper, small format (approximately 7.8 × 13.2 cm).o Style and subject. The drawing depicts a natural vista characterized by dense vegetation and rocks on the right, with an arch or ruin opening up and reflected in a body of water. The rapid, energetic, and expressive pen strokes are typical of Rosa's preparatory sketches, often

Dealer

WunderkammerPG

Antiquités

Mobile : 3663578000

Corso Vannucci 107

Perugia 06121

executed from life or as compositional studies for his paintings.Formerly in the Agnews Collection, London, as indicated by the label on the reverse.Original gilded Salvator Rosa frame.This drawing has been published several times in various catalogs and exhibitions.7.8 cm x 13.2 cm.