Description

This "Neoclassical"-style curiosity is a tabletop sculpture--a masterpiece by a stonemason--depicting a park rotunda with columns, an attic roof, and a vault, featuring six half-columns of green Pyrenean marble, an entablature and vault made of various marbles, a molded oval base with white coral gravel, and at the center, an agate tabletop set on a stony base. A meticulously crafted piece, this ovoid-shaped rotunda is a "Grand Tour" curiosity--realistic and original as a centerpiece--a one-of-a-kind piece in very good condition.
