Pair Of Biedermeier-era Armchairs In Light Wood - 19th Century

520 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Other

Width : 58

Height : 93

Depth : 58

Description

Pair of Biedermeier-era armchairs in light wood - 19th centuryAn elegant pair of Biedermeier-era armchairs in light wood, characterized by the purity of their lines and the harmonious balance of their proportions.The backrests feature a stylized lyre-shaped upper crossbar, embellished with discreet inlays that highlight the side scrolls.The curved armrests end in delicate volutes, lending suppleness and elegance to the overall design.The generously upholstered seats rest on tapered legs of great simplicity, typical of Biedermeier furniture.A turned crossbar connects the backrest posts and reinforces the structure's stability.The light wood, with its warm honey hue, highlights the refinement of the cabinetmaking and the quality of the veneers.The seats have been reupholstered with a floral striped

Dealer

Tino antiquites

Mobilier

Mobile : 0763127955

11 rue de bel air à l'huis laurent

Dun les Places 58230

fabric in soft tones, perfectly in harmony with the spirit of the furniture.This pair of armchairs will fit equally well in a living room, an office, or a bedroom, adding a touch of timeless elegance to any interior.Dimensions:Height: 93 cmWidth: 58 cmDepth: 58 cmCondition:Very good overall condition. Solid and stable frame. Upholstery and fabric are in good condition. A few slight signs of wear consistent with the piece's age and use.Period: 19th centuryStyle: BiedermeierMaterials: light wood, upholstery fabric.Origin: Central Europe.