Louis XVI-style Chest Of Drawers, 18th-century Mahogany

980 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Mahogany

Description

18th-Century Louis XVI Mahogany Secretary DeskElegant secretary desk made of solid mahogany and mahogany veneer, from the Louis XVI period, late 18th century. This high-quality piece stands out for its harmonious proportions, the finesse of its craftsmanship, and its ingenious concealed writing desk mechanism.It is topped with a superb original black marble slab with white veining. The front features three drawers at the top; the central drawer serves as a flap, revealing an elegant interior in burl elm, comprising small drawers, compartments, and a writing surface covered in burgundy leather. The lower section consists of two large drawers offering ample storage space.The fluted brass stiles, the tapered fluted legs, the molded frames, and the beautiful chiseled bronze hardware all

Dealer

Galerie Christophe Elisabeth
Galerie Christophe Elisabeth
Mobile : 06 99 48 80 76

1 domaine de Montrabech
Lézignan-Corbières 11200

reflect the refinement characteristic of late 18th-century Louis XVI furniture.This piece features a beautiful patina, is in excellent condition, and is ready to be added to a prestigious collection or interior.Dimensions:Height: 88.5 cmWidth: 120 cmDepth: 52.5 cmThis secretary chest combines elegance, functionality, and high-quality cabinetmaking, making it a prime choice for connoisseurs of 18th-century French furniture.