Description

This charming oil painting on canvas, signed in the lower right corner, captures the serenity of a timeless countryside scene, where a small cottage with a tiled roof nestles in the heart of lush, wooded countryside. A soft, diffused light envelops the composition, highlighting an ancient stone bridge spanning a river with peaceful reflections. Executed with a masterful command of shades of green and earth tones, this work fits perfectly into the tradition of rustic landscapes and postwar folk art. The canvas is signed by the artist's hand in the lower right corner and is beautifully enhanced by its original molded wooden frame, featuring a superb golden-brown patina with a hammered effect typical of mid-20th-century decorative trends.
