

Terracotta Vestal After Simon Boizot, Early Nineteenth Century

Description

Large bust in terracotta, vestal or bust of a young woman in the antique, according to the bust of the vestal by Louis Simon Boizot exhibited at the Louvre Museum.

This is a beautiful bust of a young woman in terracotta executed by hand on the first half of the nineteenth century and taking over the bust of Boizot.

beautiful workmanship, work of great finesse in details, eyelids, pupils, face ... very beautiful patina.

it rests on a piedouche in yellow marble of Siena.

this sculpture is much more beautiful in reality,
the photos do not do it justice.
