Description

A very beautiful 18th-century corner cabinet, circa 1773, featuring rosewood marquetry veneered on oak.The mark of Martin OHNEBERG, who was certified as a master cabinetmaker on July 7, 1773, is located beneath the marble top; it is slightly damaged but clearly identifiable.The curved door, with its geometric marquetry featuring numerous veneer pieces, creates aremarkable effect of relief and depth.The frame with alternating moldings is enhanced by Greek-style spandrels.The finely crafted gilded bronze fittings, signed on the back, wonderfully enhance this piece.The corner cabinet rests at the front on two colored legs inlaid with a medallion.It is topped with a piece of gray Ste Anne marble.The lock is original.An elegant, refined, and remarkable piece of furniture, with a
