Description

An elegant silver-plated coffee pot by Christofle, "Liseron" model, dating from the late 19th century (circa 1880-1900). The plain, pear-shaped body rests on a fluted pedestal. The hinged lid is topped with a finely chiseled finial depicting a blooming bindweed flower resting on its foliage. The handle, decorated with knotted and guilloché stems, is fitted with its two original heat-insulating rings. The attachments for the spout and handle feature the same floral motif in relief.Hallmarks beneath the base:Silversmith's hallmark featuring a balance with a bee and the initials CC (Charles Christofle, used between 1844 and 1935)Mark "CHRISTOFLE" spelled out in full within a rectangleSerial number "1173805 " indicating manufacture around 1890.In very fine condition.
