Description

A stunning bronze vase with a golden patina, emblematic of the Art Nouveau period of the late 19th century. The body of the vase is richly sculpted in high relief with a naturalistic design depicting raspberry branches laden with their grainy berries and detailed foliage. The flared neck is adorned with two dynamic, organic handles forming vines that blend seamlessly into the composition. The back features a composition of foliage and flowers arranged in a beautiful, flowing pattern. This piece, which has been beautifully sculpted, is signed B in intaglio on the base of the vase. "Simon" is engraved on the base of the vase.This vase perfectly illustrates the craftsmanship and aesthetics of Art Nouveau, where the grace of botanical motifs harmoniously complements the object's
