Description

Louis XV chest of drawers in natural walnut wood, opening with 3 drawers. The walnut tray, which follows the sinuosity of the plan, is molded from a corbin. Each drawer is equipped with a middle lock entry flanked by 2 patinated bronze hands. The rounded and molded uprights end with 2 curved legs ending in a volute. They are connected by a lower cross fretted and molded, embellished with a median lamp end furnished with a trilobed cartridge, carved a grid network. The flanks are panels set in a molded frame whose upper cross is fretted. This dresser is a southern work of the eighteenth century.
(customary restorations) Dim.127 / 59 / hr. 95
