jeweler's jewelery and silversmithing. Its head office is then at 16, rue Vivienne. It results from the association of three people: Hippolyte Marret (1804-1883) and his two brothers-in-law Eugène Jarry (1818-1883) and Gustave Jarry (1821- ??). The house Marret and Jarry brothers only existed for seven years, ending its activities in 1858. Two nephews of Hippolyte Marret - Ernest Marret (1835-1911) and Alfred Marret (1835-1876) - then enter the house and she becomes the Marret Society, Jarry brothers and nephew Marret.
