Description

Pair of large wrought iron consoles dating from the 18th century. Originally this ironwork separated the nave from the heart of a chapel, located in the Rhône, called "beam of glory". Neo-classical style, Greek with a height of 67 cm and generous windings, this fitting has two candlesticks, its crucifixion is absent. The section of the irons is 28 mm squared. Our last photo presents the beam of glory of the church of Saint Laurent Rochefort in the Loire. You can visit our website: www.claudeaugustin.com
