Description

Original gouache on paper of the 19th century, representing the first railway line built in Italy, in the kingdom of the two Sicilies. Opened on October 3 1839, was double track and had a length of 7.25 kilometers. Artist unknown. Gouache measures: cm 90.5 x 48.5 + black margins, cm 96 x cm 51 with black margins. The gouache has been glued to Japanese paper to reinforce the original paper. In good condition. I do my best to describe the condition, but it is very important that you look at all my pictures because they should be the best way to determine the degree of your interest. Please ask me if you need any additional photos or information, I will do my best to get them to you.
