Description

Rare pair of hand knotted Kork wool Sarrog rugs from Iran in a format called Dozar that represents the dimensions of these rugs.

One of the two is a little wider about 2 cm wide, which is conceded to old carpets and handmade.

The colors are brilliant and the design is very academic inspired by Kachan, another group of Iranian carpets. This pair of carpets is in very good condition and clean and it is actually rare to find a pair of the early twentieth century 1900 - 1920 in such good condition.

The carpet Saruk, also known as Hamadan, the Ecbatana of Antiquity, is the product of some villages and European buying houses have offices there. Many of these rugs are nicknamed hamadan by traders, especially the rugs of passage many of which are made in this region.

Sometimes these carpets have distinct identities and this type is the Sarough, tied in the small town of that name but marketed in Hamadan.

These rugs are very popular in America who appreciate the heavy luxurious pieces.

Dimensions: Width: 135 cm (53 in) x Length: 197 cm (78 in) and width: 137 cm x length: 197 cm

These carpets have been cleaned in a professional and environmentally friendly way.
