Description

Large oil on canvas by Jean Bacconnais represents a bouquet of flowers in a vase, contrast with a faded white dahlia fallen on the table, impressionist touch.

Jean Bacconnais has received numerous distinctions, medalist in arts and letters from Paris in 1997.

Bacconnais, a Baulian artist, very inspired by Brittany, is often presented as the "painter of light and the outdoors".

An autodidact who has always loved drawing and painting, from an early age

His source of inspiration has evolved, from landscapes to flowers, to still lifes.

A rich palette of colors where the play of values are paramount, in a material with vigorous impastos and solar touches, confer a great charm

to his compositions solidly built in the drawing gives body to the work.

The lines, the volumes, the shadows and the lights come from a rapid gesture that makes life vibrate and sing in all its forms

Figurative artist, he painted in all weathers with the intact enthusiasm of his youth. We perceive it immediately, as his paintings are the expression of an authentic emotion.

Each of his paintings offers us this life that we no longer have the time to surprise and discover
