Description

Slope desk with floral inlay decoration on the back of the flap and light wood fillet on the headband and sides. It opens with a flap, the inner part of which is covered with recently changed green leather. The theater consists of a row of two drawers topped by a transverse storage niche. A small zipper pushes away a sliding shelf, releasing a cover. This secretary rests on four curved legs, the two front legs are embellished with gilded bronze scraps and terminated by hooves. The upper shelf of this piece of furniture is equipped with an openwork bronze gallery. Shipping costs by carrier consult us.
