Description

Important Secretary of the Viennese Biedermeier era. (1815-1848) The "Biedermeier" style corresponds to the French "Charles Xème", same period and taste, very refined and of great design. The perfect proportions and the understated elegance have satisfied the taste of the Aristocracy and the rich Viennese bourgeoisie. The architectural articulated temple construction is composed of three rounded panels on two levels and a central drawer. The cabinet, entirely in mahogany with maple details, is intact and authentic in its entirety. Furniture of the highest standard. Perfect condition Epoque 1820/40. FIMA CINOA certificate of authenticity Delivery made directly by us in France and payment on delivery. Only a deposit is required. Do not hesitate to send all your questions by e-mail click
