Description

Tibetan tea cup on pedestal, turned wood lined with copper, partially silver plated, with embossed decoration, these libatory cups were traditionally used for yak butter tea, 19th century.

Ours is modest, since in copper, it has been used a lot, and has some scars ...

Dimensions: approximately 12.5cm x 6cm.

Condition of discovery, rather good, some wear, one or two small rustic welds, a crack on the wood ....

Take a good look at the photos ....
