Description

Persian carpet Isfahan or Isfahan in wool and silk measuring 142 cm wide by 212 cm long.

Magnificent decor for this type of Persian considered to be the finest carpets found in Iran. Museum quality carpets from the second half of the 19th century The decoration of this room uses traditional floral motifs that appear in 17th century carpets and in mosques, on old ceramics. One easily recognizes in the interlacing of roses and daisies present on the field and on the borders, often tied on these carpets.

The border and its counter-borders are very sophisticated, so much the arrangement of the interlacing and the flowers is of a great finesse. The design of the rectangular or square central medallion specific to these rugs with elegant pendant extensions, and the patterns of the angles testify to great research. The colors are pleasant and remained fresh, Prussian blue, ocher midnight blue, wine red, old pink and brown are shades that are rarely encountered.

We have great difficulty in imagining the infinite patience that was needed and needed for the creation of such a beautiful piece.

Density of around 640,000 knots per M2 for a thickness of just under 5 millimeters.

The edges are in good condition, note an old restoration seam almost invisible on 15 cm. This type of carpet proves the precise and acute artistic sense of the craftsmen of Isfahan. Isfahan, is the great city of art of Iran, even today.

During the reign of Chah Abbas, the fame of this city in the artistic sector, was of the most important.

This city has produced some great artists, and some of the finest rugs in the world.

This rug has been professionally cleaned and environmentally friendly.
