Description

Exceptional chandelier in the shape of a hot air balloon, work from middle XX in the style of Gilbert Poillerat. The balloon is lined with embedded crystals of decreasing size and through which the light passes transparently. The lighting is made up of three independent sources: the interior of the balloon, the gondola which illuminates the exterior of the balloon and the central shaft which illuminates the ground. The chandelier is made of painted steel and brass with its original patina. It is embellished with bronze ropes and pompoms which were often used in the works of Gilbert Poillerat. Unique and exceptional piece.Réf : A5645
