Description

Rare Solid Mahogany Duster, designed in the spirit of Louis XVI by the Parisian Maison "Escalier de Cristal". The establishment located in the Palais Royal, and founded in 1804 by Marie Desarnaud, originally specialized in the creation of goods combining cut crystal and gilded bronze. This Small Furniture opens on the front with a Discreet flap, with Brass hinges and clasps on the sides. It protects a very Soft Greige colored Marble. In the rear part, there is a removable element in solid mahogany, with cavities of different diameters and depths, initially allowing you to store beauty products. Below, this Duster offers two identical trays with high edges, thus preventing any accessories that may be there from falling from the Cabinet. The whole is held together by very thin uprights whose legs are tapered, in the style of Louis XVI.

This piece of furniture is dovetailed, and the stamping "Escalier de Cristal Paris" under its last top attests that it has benefited from a High Quality of Work and Wood. Indeed, it was in 1870 that the French House extended its manufacture to Furniture, mostly copies of the 18th century, with such Precision of Execution that they are regularly confused with the originals.  Period: Late 19th century
