Description

Small cabinet in solid Walnut, designed in the Gothic spirit, opening in front by a door with Generous Moldings forming frames. In the center, the panel is embellished with two Calligraphic and intertwined letters, perhaps an S mingling with an L. They are topped with a Crown, probably that of a Count. This door is equipped with a lock in working order accompanied by its key. Moreover, it has the particularity of being blocked at the bottom by a latch, which is activated by pressing a button hidden under the Cabinet. The interior is the result of a nice work of Cabinetmaking. It offers six storage compartments formed by the presence of a vertical partition and four fixed shelves with moving edges. The uprights consist of four Twisted Columns, supporting a Capital. The latter
