Description

Study sheet of double-sided nude models by Édouard Leverd (1881-1953) best known for his watercolors depicting views of Paris. This drawing was probably made when he exhibited at the universal exhibitions of Saint-Louis (1904), Liège (1905) and Milan (1906) and accumulated medals. The drawing bearing the stamp of the signature is framed in a modern natural wood frame, so that both sides of the sheet can be used. This one measures 23x30.5 cm.
