Description

Remarkable property clock in bronze with brown patina, dating from the end of the 19th century. It is surmounted by a tall bronze statue illustrating a woman from ancient Rome, dressed in peplos and wearing sandals. Her wavy hair, styled in a bun, is accessorized with a thin headband. An 'AD' signature, crowned with a small star, is engraved on the rear left corner of the sculpture. A second element, in the lower part, has a clock with a dial in sea green marble. It is accompanied on either side by a plate shaped from the same marble. On both ends of the clock as well as on the side walls, we find characters from Antiquity, in relief, dressed in period draped costumes. They engage in various recreational and enjoyable hobbies such as reading, theater and music. These subjects are subtly patinated, accentuating the
