Description

This round table in solid mahogany and mahogany veneer has three possibilities through its system. Its circular top has a thin belt. Its base is made up of four legs sheathed in solid mahogany, connected by a cross of Saint Andrew. This modular table can be installed in a high position to accommodate four people. Then, it opens with a system of ash slides allowing the installation of one or two extensions to accommodate eight to ten people. Finally, a system consisting of two folding legs allows the height of the table to be lowered, transforming it into a coffee table. This can be enlarged thanks to the two extensions. This round "up and down" table can be used both in your dining room and as a coffee table in your living room. With its resolutely vintage design, this furniture will
