Description

Old necklace formed of a triple jaseron mesh triple chain retained by a ratchet clasp allowing it to be worn alone. This necklace can also be clipped onto the back of an older pendant made of a gold plate finely engraved with arabesques and decorated with applied fine half-pearls, rubies and gold motifs stylizing characters. A fine baroque pearl is supported in a tassel at the base and can be removed. A step-cut tourmaline completes the decor within a beaded claw setting. Period: 20th century Main material: yellow gold, 750 thousandths, 18 carats, owl hallmark. Weight of the tourmaline: approximately 1.80 carats. Total ruby weight: approximately 0.36 carats. Dimensions of the main bead: 9.5 x 6 mm approximately. Proportions: Length: approximately 50 cm, width of the chain:

approximately 3 mm, height of the pendant:
approximately 5 cm, width: approximately 4.4 cm, thickness: approximately 9 mm. Net weight: 59.3g approx. Old jewelry - French work from the 1960s for the necklace, much earlier for the pendant which has been transformed. Our opinion:
an old modular piece of jewelry that can be worn in different situations, the hanging part has one of the most refined carvings. To find out
