Description

We present today this important pair of style armchairs from the 19th century (circa 1880). They are a bit of the Louis XIII style in their appearance, the armrests end in lions' heads and the termination of the front legs in claws. They are ready to use. Good condition, the price we ask is just the price that the repair cost a few years ago. Given the importance of these seats and their competitive prices, we will not pay for the shipping unless it was in the following departments: 42 - 63 - 69 - 43 in fact the departments bordering on ours, i.e. 42 or if it was on one of our trajectories during our travels between Clermont-Ferrand and Le Mans (once a month) or Clermont-Ferrand Béziers and Béziers Avignon soon in November.
