Description

Vanuatu is a country in the South Pacific, more precisely in Melanesia. Composed of about 80 islands that extend over 1,300 kilometers, the different cultures that this archipelago shelters offer a great wealth in its artisanal and artistic productions. There are different types of ceremonial or war clubs. Here I, we will then notice the sumptuousness of the brown wood as well as the sinuous shape of this weapon having at its end a finely carved mass.
