Description

Boiserie console in gray lacquered wood. The bottom is full and offers a molded and geometric decoration of a rosette adorned with acanthus leaves and with a sunflower flower in its center. The front uprights that frame this panel are carved with foliage and flowers. The amounts present on the front are formed by atlantes supporting the entablature. The belt is carved with foliage evoking stylized lambrequins. The base is rectangular in shape, has canted sides and is molded with tori. The console is surmounted by a red Rance marble top. Louis XIV period Usual restorations, relacquered H. 116 x W. 177 x D. 67 cm
