Description

Very elegant Louis XV wall console with crossbow facade in gilded wood with openwork decoration from the 18th century. Topped with a Carrara marble top with corbin beak, its crossbow facade is remarkably sculpted with acanthus leaves and largely openwork interlacing, the side crosspieces receive the same decoration in a movement of widening towards the back. It rests on two curved feet adorned with acanthus leaves, shells and foliage, they are joined by a spacer of interlacing centered with large rosette acanthus leaves. Its very light, slender, turbulent lines give a lot of character to this console which will find its place in both classic and contemporary interiors.

Good condition, restorations of use and maintenance, beautiful patina of the old gilding
