Description

SWORD called Jambiya

Yemen, late 19th - early 20th century

Marine ivory, steel, wood and silver

Total length: 42 ; Blade length: 28 cm

Dagger with a curved steel blade with a gold damascus heel, double edge and median ridge.

The handle, called saifani, is made of marine ivory and is carved in a curved manner.

The wooden scabbard is covered in silver with relief decoration of pearled fillets and marked with four punches. It ends in a point with a flower bud ornament. A symbol of prestige, this dagger refers to the social status of its owner. Worn on the belt, it is considered a masculine accessory.
