

Tobacco Or Hemp Mortar, Holo, Drc

680 EUR

Signature : Holo

Period : 20th century

Condition : Etat d'usage

Height : 13,3 cm

Description

Hemp or tobacco mortar representing a kneeling female figure. The arms are along the torso and the hands come around a slightly prominent navel. Only a necklace hanging between the breasts dresses the upper body. She wears a skirt on which is drawn a checkered pattern. The face is fine, the eyes are half-closed and the expression is serene. The head is surmounted by a container serving as a mortar.

The sculpture is fine and the general look is very balanced.

First part of the 20th century.

Wood with a beautiful brown patina from use.

Small holes in the skirt and behind the head certainly due to a removal to keep some power of the statuette with you. The mortar cover is missing.

Dealer

Curiositas

Arts premiers, archéologie

Mobile : 0637773819

Ternand 69620

H: 13.3 cm

Holo people, Democratic Republic of Congo.

Provenance: Soubry family collection (Belgium).

Sold with its base